SIXTY THOUSAND CHINESE TROOPS ORDERED NORTH

GENERAL TSAI TING KAI

The above photograph was taken when he was Commander of the 19th Route Army during the Sino-Japanese clash at Woosung in 1931.

READY TO DO MY DUTY

GENERAL TSAI SAYS
WAR UNAVOIDABLE

"Whether there will be a war or not depends on the Japanese policy. We, Chinese, like peace, but if our country is invaded by aggressive foreign forces, it is our duty to rise and protect it," declared General Tsai Ting Kai, former commander of the 19th Route Army, when he was interviewed by a "Daily Press" representative at his residence yesterday.

General Tsai, who learned of the North China situation while he was enjoying a vacation in Baguio, P.I., where the Chinese Press urged him to return to China, arrived in the Colony yesterday morning aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia, en route to the Central Government in connection with the Sino-Japanese crisis.

AWAITING ORDERS

"As long as the situation remains quiet, I shall remain in Hong Kong, but if my services are required and if I receive instructions from the Central Government to that effect, I shall be ready to go to North China at any moment to do my duty and to serve my country," said General Tsai, who added that, since the Lukhouchiao incident, he had been urged by Central Government leaders and private friends to aid the country from aggressive attacks from Japan.

General Tsai said that he had sent a telegram to General Sung, (Continued on Page 9.)

BRITAIN'S POSITION

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MR. EDEN

London, July 21.

Replying to a question by Mr. H. Day (Labour), the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, announced that the position as regards extraterritoriality in China was unchanged.

Capt. L. F. Plugge (Conservative), enquired what the British commitments were as a consequence of the North China trouble, giving as his reason the Nine-Power Treaty, the Kellogg Pact and the League Covenant. Mr. Eden replied that neither the Nine-Power Treaty nor the Kellogg Pact committed the Government in the present dispute, nor had any arisen under the League Covenant.

Replying to Mr. A. C. Morel (Conservative), Mr. Eden said that the Ambassador's comments as regards the Chinese insurance legislation had been received and that the matter was now under consideration.

CONSTANT CONSULTATION

In another reply, to Mr. G. le M. Mander (Labour), Mr. Eden said that the Government was in constant consultation with other governments, whether members of the League or not, on the present situation in the Far East. Such consultations were now taking place daily through diplomatic channels; Mr. Eden concluding by saying that as he was advised at the present, he did not consider that Mr. Mander's suggestion to refer the matter to the League Council was likely to improve the situation.—Reuter.

TASHI LAMA

Simla, July 21.
The Tashi Lama has decided to Tibet.—Reuter.

Tell me, doctor...

I wanted to ask you about blood poisoning. The children are always scratching their hands and cutting their knees. And now Mrs. Edwards' boy, you know, is in bed with a terrible leg. Tell me, is there something pleasant I could keep handy, some really reliable precaution?

'Dettol', the modern antiseptic, is a highly effective weapon against germs of septic infection. It is the gentle antiseptic—clean, clear, pleasant to use, yet deadly to every germ. Non-poisonous, non-staining—yet promptly used in time of accident it may save you untold pain and danger. Never neglect a cut or scratch, however small. Even a tiny break in the skin is a wide-open gateway for the germs that set up blood-poisoning. Disinfect at once with 'Dettol'. The way to prevent blood-poisoning is to kill the germs that cause it.

KOWLOON TRAGEDY RECALLED

Inquest Into Death Of Mr. C.E. Watson

JURY EXPRESS SYMPATHY

Circumstances surrounding the tragic death of Mr. C. E. Watson, proprietor of Brewer's Bookshop, which occurred at an early hour on June 23, as the result of a fall from his residence at No. 25, Carnarvon Road, 2nd floor, were probed at an inquest held at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon. Mr. E. M. A. Barnett sat as Coroner, assisted by the following jury:—M. F. Key (foreman), Yeo Choon-chen and Hans Lowig.

Dr. K. H. Uttley, medical officer of the Kowloon Hospital, stated that the cause of death was due to hemorrhage and shock. There were both external and internal injuries.

Mr. O. R. Benson, deceased's brother-in-law, testified that to his knowledge deceased had no financial trouble, and that he always enjoyed good health. He last saw deceased on June 28.

Mr. R. S. Capell gave evidence that he had known deceased for many years. The last he saw of him was on June 27 at the Kowloon Cricket Club where they played billiards together, and later had lunch. After lunch they returned to the Club and played tennis still late in the afternoon. They then went to a cinema performance after which they returned home for dinner.

Witness added that about 9 p.m. the same day he received a telephone message asking him to go to the pictures. He asked deceased to go with him but the latter declined the invitation saying that he was too tired.

Witness said that he took deceased home in a taxi while he was on his way to Hong Kong. Deceased was quite cheerful while alighting from the taxi.

Mr. Capell went on to say that about 4.15 a.m. on the following day he was awakened by his door bell ringing, on opening the door he saw Chan Chun, deceased's servant, who informed him that his master had fallen out of the window and was injured. Witness proceeded to the scene and saw deceased being carried to the ambulance.

A SHARP NOISE

Mr. N. L. Earl, residing at No. 25, Carnarvon Road, ground floor, in evidence, said that he was disturbed from his sleep about 4.30 a.m. on June 28, by a sharp noise, followed by a loud thud that appeared to have come from the back yard. He got up to investigate and found a man lying on the ground face downward. He later identified him as Mr. C. E. Watson. He ran to the street to call for the police and at the same time summoned the ambulance.

Detective-Sergeant A. Kinnear who visited the scene of the tragedy said that he had taken measurements of the room and window. Deceased's bedroom had two windows opening to the back yard. The height from the flat to the back yard was 31 feet. Close by the window there was a chair which was 2 feet 10 inches high; a cushion which was on the chair bore two foot-marks. The height between the chair and the window sill was only a few inches.

A search of the room was made, but witness could not find any correspondence relating to the state of deceased's mind.

Corroborative evidence was given by several other witnesses. The jury, after having heard the evidence returned a verdict of accidental death and added their heart-felt sympathy to the relatives and friends of the deceased, to which his Worship added, "I wish to associate myself with your expression of sympathy."

MURDER TRIAL

The story of a murder, carried out at No. 337 Shanghai Street, ground floor, was heard before the Acting Chief Justice, His Honour Mr. Justice C. G. Alabaster, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday, when Tong Shum-wing, 28-year-old carpenter, appeared on trial for the alleged murder of his clansman, Tong Shu Lam, aged 27, on May 17.

The jury empanelled for the case were: Messrs. D. J. Fraser (Foreman), Thackman Law, R.H. L.A. Umnuss, Foo Ping-yen, Charles Chun Ham, Yeung Chen-chuen and Kwan Sau-fung.

Mr. E. H. Williams, Acting Crown Solicitor, conducted the prosecution, whilst accused was represented by Mr. Harold Lee.

It is alleged that accused attacked Tong with an axe, causing fatal injuries to his head as the result of which Tong died in the Kowloon.

Opening for the Crown, Mr. Williams said accused and the uncle of the deceased came to Hong Kong and started business in canvas beds and chairs in March.

Towards the end of April, deceased came out from the village and got his uncle to engage him as a foki. After a week, he was discharged and sent back to the village. Accused complained that his work was not satisfactory.

After evidence was taken in support of the opening hearing was adjourned until 10 a.m. to-day.

Witness stated that he was going to the Star Theatre with a friend who did not turn up, but after he had come out of the show he had met him in Jimmy's Kitchen and was introduced to another friend. Evans went on to say that he returned to his ship before midnight, and it was about that time that a Chinese man, dressed in European styled clothing came to him with the two trunks telling him to keep them until the boatwain came aboard. Witness said that he had asked the Chinese man the contents of the trunks and was told "Whiskey."

Mr. W. Thompson cross-examined the witness and Evans denied any knowledge of the cases containing opium. He stated that he was not sufficiently interested in those cases as they were not his property.

Hearing was adjourned till August 3.

PLAN YOUR MEAT COURSE TO SUIT THE SUMMER SEASON

When days are hot and sultry you'll plan to avoid the "heart" meat course as you would the plague if you want to keep your family healthy and happy. But if you are wise you'll plan to have a hot main dish more often than not. For, delightful and attractive as cold dishes may be, the careful housewife does not introduce them too often on her summer menus. Here are some menus to provide the backbone of the well considered summer meal.

SWEETBREAD SOUFFLE

Prepare a pair of sweetbreads by soaking one hour in cold salted water. Drain and put into a kettle of cold water and allow to come to a boil. Cook for about twenty minutes. Take them from the kettle and plunge into ice water until firm. Trim all fat and membrane from the sweetbreads and chop them fine. Add one cup of cream sauce, three well-beaten egg yolks and season with salt and pepper to taste. Fold in three egg whites beaten stiff. Fill small greased molds two-thirds full of the mixture, set molds in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve with asparagus tips and hot biscuits. You may garnish with small white grapes or silver almonds.

TONGUE WITH MUSHROOMS AND TOMATO

8 strips bacon
1 onion
1 lb. mushroom
2 tomatoes
8 slices cooked tongue
Brown bacon in frying pan, remove to warming oven and pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the fat. Slice onion very thin, brown delicately in bacon fat, add mushrooms cut in slices, cook 2 minutes, add tomatoes, cut in pieces and tongue. Simmer gently for 15 minutes. Serve garnished with bacon.

LUNCHEON ROLL

1 chopped onion
2 tbs. fat
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 tsp. salt
Few grains pepper
1 cup cracker crumbs
1 lb. chopped beef
1 cup flour
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. shortening
1 cup milk (approximately)
Fry onion in fat until a delicate brown. Beat egg; add milk, salt, pepper and crumbs; mix well. Add chopped beef and fried onion. From into a roll place on a rack in baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Remove from oven. Mix flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening with knives or rub in with finger tips. Add enough milk to hold ingredients together. Roll out biscuit dough a little larger than the meat roll. Cover meat with biscuit dough. Cut a design on top of loaf and brush with milk. Bake in a hot oven until the biscuit crust is a nice brown.

LIVER CAKES

1 lb. beef liver
1 medium large onion
8 square crackers
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
2 tbs. milk
2 eggs beaten slightly
Force the liver, onion and crackers through a food chopper, using the medium blade. Add the salt, pepper, milk and eggs and mix thoroughly. Drop by rounded tablespoons into skillet containing 3 tablespoons of melted shortening. Pan fry until nicely browned on both sides.

DILL BEEF BIRDS

There is a Swedish air about these "Birds" for the flavouring has the tang of many Swedish foods. Cut one pound of thin round steak into six oblongs. Center each piece with a bit of bacon and a strip of dill pickle. Roll, fasten with toothpicks, brown in shortening, sprinkle with flour, salt and paprika and add 4 cups of hot water. Cook slowly one hour or until tender. Place dumplings seasoned with caraway seeds, if liked, on top of the meat and cook 15 minutes longer.

CHICKEN PIE

Make a blend of 3 tablespoons of shortening and 3 tablespoons of flour. When cheesy add one cup stock, water or gravy. When thick blend with one cup diced chicken, one cup diced ham, three chopped green olives, and a teaspoon curry. Put in a baking dish and cover with one can corned corn. Dot with butter and sprinkle with paprika. Bake until brown (about 20 minutes).

WITH POACHED EGGS CORNED BEEF HASH NESTS

Open canned corn beef hash and shape into nests. (Individual rounds with a depression in the center). Place in a frying pan to heat and brown on the bottom. In the meantime poach as many eggs as will be needed cooking in rings to keep the eggs from spreading. Make parsley butter by creaming 3 tablespoons butter and 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley and 1 teaspoon lemon juice; add 1 teaspoon chopped chives. To serve place corned beef nests on a platter, drop a poached egg in each and with a teaspoon of parsley butter. Garnish with sprigs of parsley.

BACON GRILL

Place strips of partially cooked bacon on large slices of bread which have each been spread with 1 teaspoon curry powder mixed with 1 1/2 teaspoons of butter. Alternate bacon with thin strips of cheese and broil. Garnish with tomato slices and pickles.

Cooling Beverages

Hot and sultry days turn our attention to refreshing drinks—serve them often—in the afternoon or over a game of cards when day is done.

BLACK COW

Half fill a glass with chilled gingerale, add 2 tablespoons heavy cream or a scoop of ice cream, beat until well mixed and serve at once.

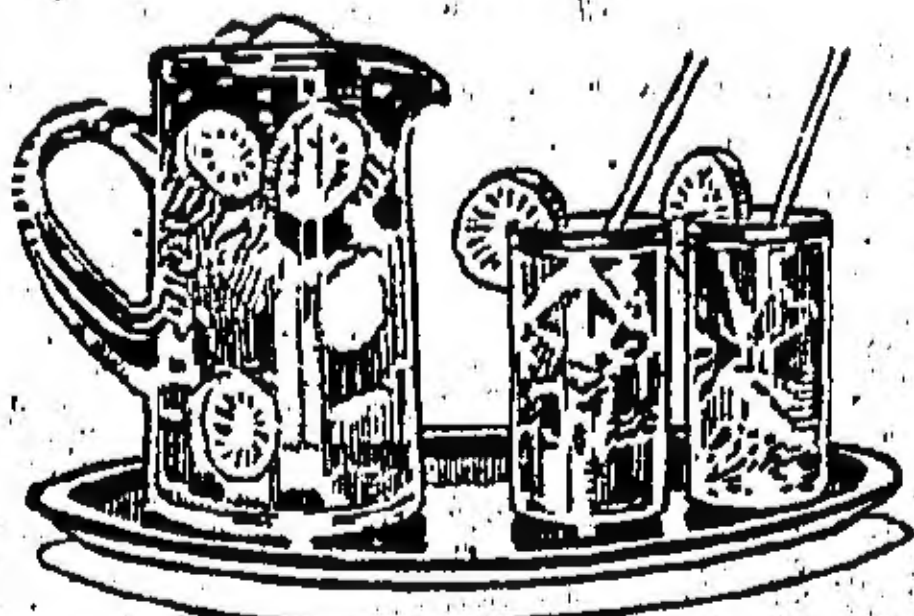

CHILDREN'S MILK SHAKE

To 1 cup of fresh milk add 1 cup unsweetened canned pineapple juice and 1 scoop of vanilla ice cream. Have milk and juice thoroughly chilled. Shake up well or mix with an electric mixer.

PINEAPPLE MINT DRINK

Add 1 cup crushed pineapple to 1 cup sugar, 1 cup water and 1 cup lemon juice. Cook sugar and water first for 2 minutes, add lemon juice and strain, then pineapple.

Next add 1 bunch mint (6 tablespoons) or 1 teaspoon mint extract may be used instead of mint leaves. Pour 3 tablespoons or more of pineapple mint syrup over crushed ice and fill glasses with gingerale.

ORANGE MILK DRINK

1 cup evaporated milk
2 cups orange juice
3 tbs. sugar
Few grains salt
Combine ingredients and stir well or shake vigorously. Chill.

SPICED CIDER

To 1 gallon sweet cider add 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, 1 tablespoon whole allspice, 1 tablespoon whole cloves, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne. Boil 15 minutes. Chill. Serve over ice cubes.

PRUNE JUICE DE LUXE

Buy prune juice in a bottle or make at home by cooking prunes

FASHIONS IN ENTERTAINMENT

BREAKFAST ENTERTAINING FAVOURED BY YOUNGER SET

Entertaining informally at breakfast has been growing in favour of late among the younger set. It is a delightful way to begin a holiday or to entertain a crowd after an early morning swim.

The keynote of breakfast entertaining is simplicity. Use gay flowered china, dillies, or table cloths of gingham or fringed coloured linen, and if flowers are used as a centerpiece they should be simply arranged in a bowl or basket.

One large table may be used, or small tables, scattered around the living room or patio, are equally correct. Many hostesses who have only one maid serve this company breakfast buffet style.

A WAFFLE BREAKFAST IS NEW

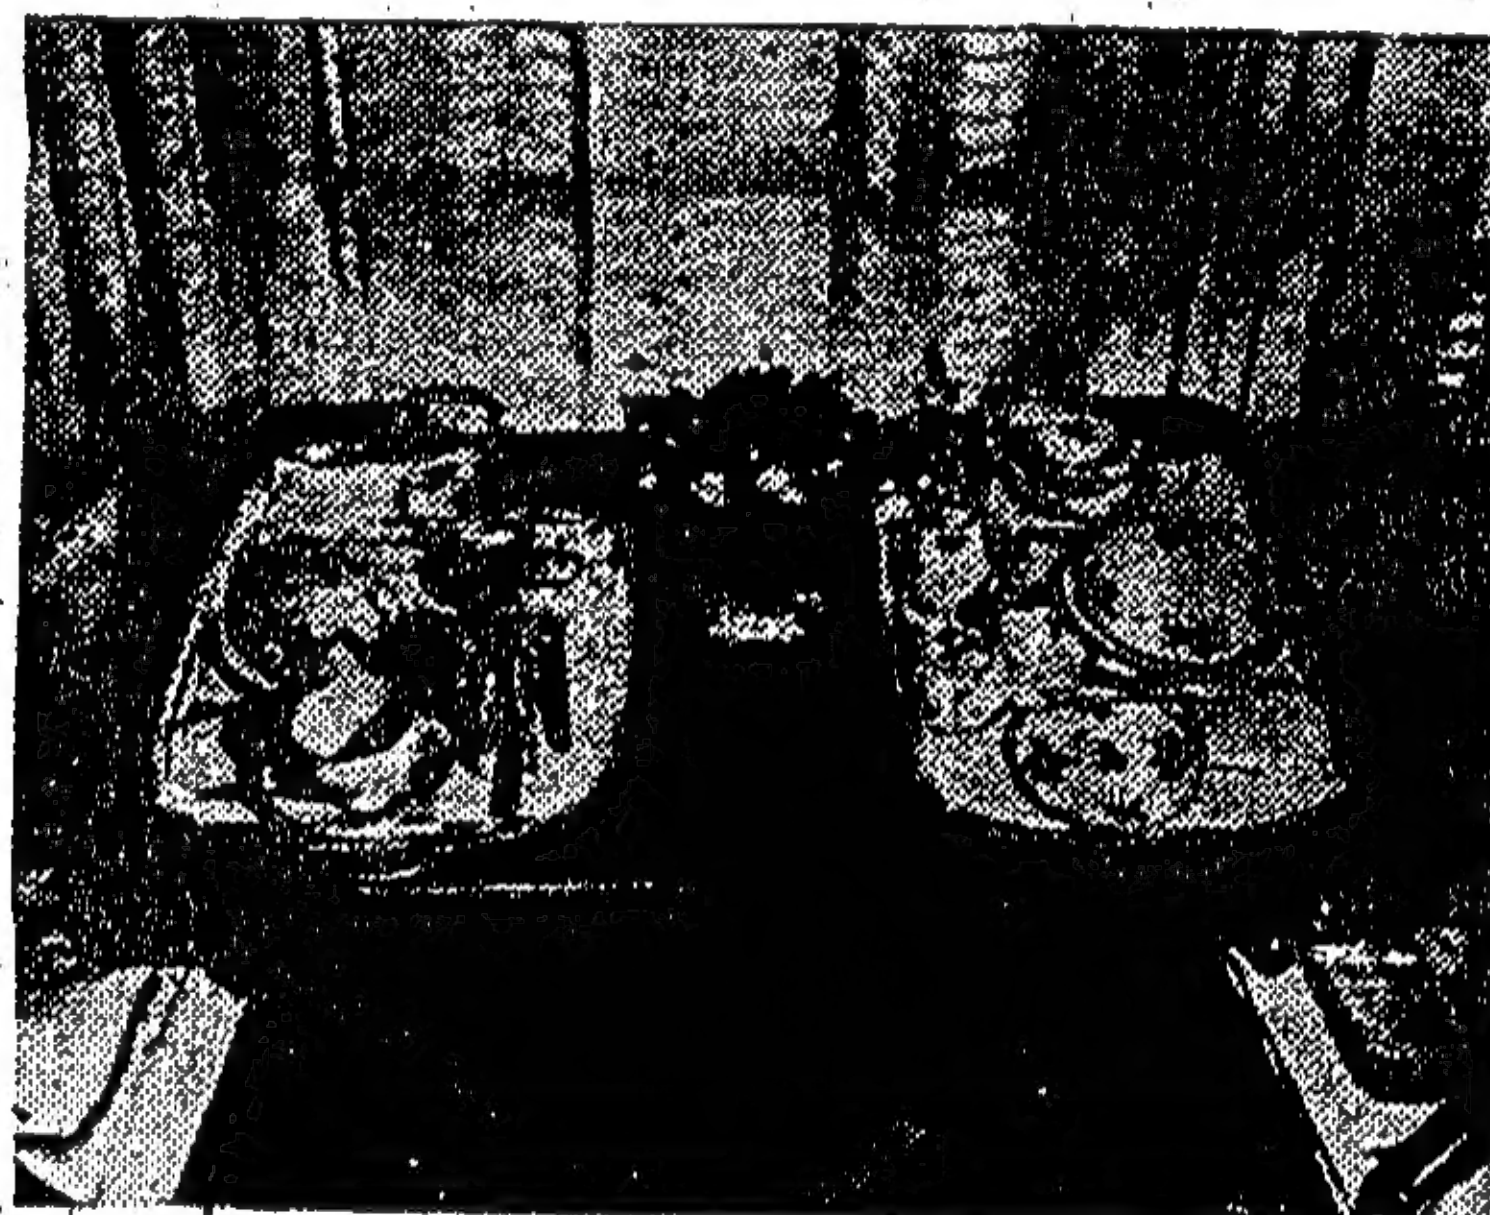

If your friends have never tasted waffles, here is your opportunity to introduce them to this delightful dish. Place the waffle iron in front of the hostess and have the batter in pitchers with wide mouths. The maid can serve coffee, or the service can be placed on a tray at the other end of the table and a friend asked to pour.

elaborate functions given in her honour. If you can afford the dainty breakfast sets of gay, flowered china, so fashionable today, use them by all means. If not, arrange your own dishes on two trays as shown in the illustration.

If you have never tried serving hot breads for breakfast, this is the place to begin. It is an English custom that has found favour in many parts of the world. Hot breads are easy to make and even an unintelligent servant can be taught to bake them successfully, if you impress on her the necessity of following directions to the letter.

TESTED RECIPES FOR SIMPLE HOT BREADS

Royal Biscuits
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
3/4 cup milk (or half milk and half water)
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening and Waffles, you know, are always accompanied by generous servings of syrup, honey, jellies, jam or cinnamon and sugar mixed. Better have bowls of each so that your guests will have a choice.

ROYAL WAFFLES

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
4 tablespoons melted shortening
Sift together dry ingredients. Add slightly beaten egg yolks and milk; beat thoroughly. Add shortening. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron until brown. Makes 4 large waffles.

BREAKFAST ON A TRAY

When you have a house guest, breakfast a la tete-a-tete can be as charming a part of her entertainment as any of the more mix in thoroughly with fork. Add liquid to make soft dough. Turn out on floured board and toss lightly until outside looks smooth. Roll out 1/4 inch thick. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Place on greased pan. Bake in hot oven about 12 minutes. Makes 16 2" biscuits.

ORANGE BISCUIT SQUARES
1 recipe for Royal Biscuits
1 tablespoon sugar
Grated rind and juice of one orange.
Make a dough, adding sugar and grated orange rind to dry ingredients. Turn out on a floured board and roll 1/4" thick. Cut in 2" squares and sprinkle with granulated sugar and orange juice. Bake in hot oven about 10 minutes. Makes 12.

Artichoke Cream Soup

Ingredients: 2 lbs. artichokes, 2 1/2 pints white stock, 1 pint milk, 1 leek, 1 1/2 oz. butter, 1 1/2 oz. flour, salt, pepper, pinch of sugar.

Peel and slice artichokes, wash and slice the leek, only using the white part. Melt the butter in the saucepan, add the vegetables, toss in the butter for five minutes. Do not let them colour. Add stock and seasonings, put on the lid, simmer for an hour. Mix the flour smoothly with the milk and add to soup. Press through a sieve, bring to the boil again.
Serve with finely-grated cheese.

In Season This Week

A number of lovely melons have appeared in local shops this week, and can be recommended.

The melon is a peculiar fruit as it does not make an universal appeal. Though most people admit it is delicious yet many fight any of it in hot weather. For those who think it "too cold" and "liable to disagree here is a tip. Take lots of sugar with it and before eating dust your slice lightly with pepper. Not only does it bring out the flavour, it prevents any ill effects afterwards.

LIGHT PUDDINGS

Recipes For Hot Weather

A delicious pudding, which can be served hot or cold, is made with the aid of a cake shell which has a raised centre, making a hollow in the baked shell when it is turned out. Alternatively, one pudding basin or ordinary cake tin placed inside another can be used. Make the mixture by creaming together four ounces each of butter and sugar, beating in two large eggs and sifting in four ounces of self-raising flour and a pinch of salt. Flavour with vanilla, lemon rind, or other flavouring. Well grease the tins or basins, spread in the mixture about half an inch thick and bake in a fairly hot oven until cooked. Turn out carefully, and fill the centre with any stewed, thinned, or bottled fruit liked, heating it first if the pudding is to be served hot. If served cold, decorate with whipped cream and chopped nuts.

Caramel Cream

The following caramel cream is both light and nourishing. Put four ounces of castor sugar into a thick aluminium saucepan. Let it dissolve and get brown. Careful watching is necessary here, as if the sugar is left too long it will taste burnt. It should be approximately the colour of brown paper. Have ready a pint of hot milk, and pour on to the sugar, which will froth up. Also have ready four eggs beaten with a little milk and combine thoroughly with the milk and sugar. Add a few drops of vanilla essence and pour all into a double saucepan. Stir until it thickens, then pour into custard cups and decorate with ratafias.

Chocolate Trifle

Chocolate trifle is another good cold sweet. Put four or five small sliced sponge cakes into a dish with a few ratafias and sprinkle with sherry or a little fruit juice. Dissolve two ounces of plain chocolate in a basin over a pan of hot water and stir in two tablespoons of castor sugar. Take three-quarters of a pint of milk and beat three eggs with some of it. Pour the rest over the chocolate and stir until well blended. Pour this and the eggs into a double saucepan and stir until it thickens. Then add a few drops of vanilla essence and pour over the sponge cakes. When quite cold spread the top with whipped cream and decorate with chopped pistachio nuts, angelica, and glace cherries.

With A Piece Of Bacon

The end of a piece of bacon usually resolves itself into "Ham" Toast or Scrambled Eggs with Bacon. But there are other and more attractive ways of finishing it up. For example, these:

BACON AND EGG TARTLETS

Mince six ounces of cold lean bacon and mix with two ounces of white breadcrumbs, salt, pepper, nutmeg and enough milk to make a smooth stiff paste. Butter half-a-dozen patty-pans, dust them over well with browned breadcrumbs and then line them with the mixture. Break an egg carefully into each tartlet, sprinkle with a little more browned breadcrumb; dot with a bit of butter and bake in the oven until the eggs are done.

POTTED BACON

This makes a good breakfast stand-by. Put half a pound of lean and two ounces of fat cooked bacon two or three times through the mincing-machine and pound it well with a teaspoonful each of mace, nutmeg and pepper and a pinch of cayenne. Rub it then through a fine sieve, and press it well down into a pot or small pishish. Cover with clarified butter, and it will keep some days in a cool place, and weeks in a refrigerator.

BACON AND MACARONI PUDDING

Cook some macaroni and have ready a breakfast-cupful. Put this into a buttered baking-dish and over it spread a mixture of a breakfast-cupful of chopped cold bacon, half a teaspoonful of salt, a good pinch of celery salt and pepper and a few drops of onion juice.

Beat up slightly two eggs and add them to a breakfastcupful and a half of milk, and pour this into the dish. Bake in a moderate oven until firm.

CHINESE AVIATORS

After describing his tour of China, carried out for the most part by air, Mr. H. McEvoy, a well-known Australian businessman, paid a tribute to the Chinese pilots engaged in operating the internal air services of that country. He said:

"It is marvellous how the Chinese fly through their country. It is purely local knowledge of the country. They flew me through weather that the American pilots would not go into, and I or any other Australian pilot would not fly in either."

In aviation China's progress has been remarkably quick and material. Her existing system of roads, particularly arterial roads, is not adequate considering her size, and it is only to be expected that China should resort to the latest and speediest form of communication—the airways.

Internal air services in China are handled by two companies, one of them being the China National Aviation Corporation. This is an exclusively Chinese concern, and it will interest many to know that it is the only firm that is operating air services in China profitably without Government subsidies.

PUT ON BLACK LIST

For assaulting his wife by striking her with a hammer, Leonard Archibald Capp, aged 44, a native of Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, was sentenced to twelve months' hard labour and placed on the Black List for life by Guernsey Royal Court.

Capp, a former petty officer in the Navy, had lived in Guernsey for two years.

For the defence, it was said that the assault was the climax to a drinking bout.

[The Black List is a statute prohibiting persons from obtaining alcoholic liquor.]

WHEN LOVE IS YOUNG

With the completion of the picture at Universal Studios and its previewing by critical audiences, it was discovered that Virginia Bruce, feminine lead of "When Love Is Young," herself had soared into the front rank of singing stars of the screen on the strength of her remarkable performance.

Under the adroit direction of Hal Mohr, this story of a country girl who smarted under the snubs of classmates and went away to New York to win fame in a series of exciting and sometimes hilarious adventures, moves swiftly to a brilliant climax.

"When Love Is Young" has its opening at the Alhambra Theatre to-day.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU?

Mr. Sakutaro Koidzumi, a well-known Japanese politician, has caused a wide-spread sensation by continuing to live, thereby flouting the dicta of a number of physicians attending him at what they considered his "death-bed."

In the small hours of June 5, the doctors announced to the sad circle of family members gathered about Mr. Koidzumi's bedside that the aged politician had but a few minutes to live. His pulse weakened and he seemed to have drawn his last breath when suddenly the "dead" man opened wide his eyes and taking in the tearful circle gathered about him, inquired, "What's the matter with you people?" To the amazement of everyone in the room, he then picked up a telegram from Prince Saloni, the Genro, inquiring after his health, and promptly set to work writing a reply.

Since then, Mr. Koidzumi recuperated rapidly and a few days ago, when General Minami, the Governor-General of Korea, and Mr. Matsukata, President of the South Manchuria Railway Com-

WOMEN OF GLAMOUR

Sparkling comedy, with undertones of human, emotional drama, portrayed by a cast of brilliant artists, makes of "Women of Glamour" which opens to-day at the King's Theatre, one of the most entertaining photoplays of the season.

The cast is headed by Melvyn Douglas, whose gift for modern humour was so aptly illustrated in "She Married Her Boss" and "Theodora Goes Wild" playing opposite him is Virginia Bruce, who draws the best role of her career in this Columbia production. Gordon Douglas, credited with the direction, has done a fine job.

CAIN AND MABEL

Two of the foremost stars of the silver screen, Marion Davies and Clark Gable, are brought together in "Cain and Mabel," a Cosmopolitan production replete with popular music, comedy, romance, spectacular feature numbers and the blinding action of the fight arena, which will have its local premiere at the Majestic Theatre to-day, as a Warner Bros. release.

Besides the glittering background of the theatre, with its beautiful pageantry and its revelation of backstage life, and the thrill of a championship battle in the squared circle, there are two mammoth specialty numbers, one of which is said to eclipse in magnitude and splendour anything of its kind ever presented on the screen.

TURN OFF THE MOON

Mix a girl who steals a doughnut because she's hungry, a store detective who follows the girl, a boy who puts another person's name on his songs because he needs a job in a department store's music counter, a merchant who believes in horoscopes and refuses to make a move without the stars being in their proper aspects, a merchant's sweetheart who has waited fifteen years to marry him; cast it with Charles Ruggles, Eleanor Whitney, Johnny Downs, Kenny Baker, Phil Harris, Ben Blue and Marjorie Galeson, and you have one of the season's most amusing musical comedies. "Turn Off the Moon," which opens at the Queen's Theatre to-day.

"Turn Off the Moon" opens with Elliott Dinwiddie about to celebrate his store's twenty-fifth anniversary. Ruggles, as the merchant, believes his destiny is controlled by astrology and regulates his life according to his horoscope.

pany called on him, he discussed his favourite subjects with them. Commenting on his astonishing recovery, Dr. Yoshimoto, one of the physicians in charge, declared: "It is beyond the pale of medical science. I can only attribute it to the workings of some spiritual power."

You can't live on love and Johnny Downs and Eleanor Whitney find food a great aid to romance in Paramount's gayest musical comedy, "Turn Off the Moon," which opens at the Queen's Theatre to-day.

HOLLYWOOD

Fight For Fame

If all the roads leading to Hollywood haven't by this time been depressed a thousand feet below sea level the world can thank the paving department of the State of California.

Each day, actors, writers, artists, mechanics, carpenters, elocution teachers, electricians, and boys and girls without vocation or talent, travel those roads to the new Eldorado, the last American frontier the Wonderland where stand the great Dream Factories of the world.

They are drawn by the constantly circulated myths and legends about Hollywood: myths that make the tales told Dick Whittington about London town seem like uninspired stories.

In all the history of Hollywood exactly thirteen stars have come up from the extra ranks. Among these are Janet Gaynor, Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Jean Harlow, Carole Lombard, Adolphe Menjou and Randolph Scott.

Yet, to-day talent scouts estimate that in the United States alone there are three million persons who are considering leaving their homes to go to Hollywood.

PARENTS ABROAD

Children Without Home Life

The problems of the family separated by the high seas were discussed recently at a conference of parents, school-masters and heads of holiday homes, organized by the Overseas League in co-operation with the Parents' National Education Union and other societies, at Overseas House.

Mrs. M. K. Connor said that many English families in the Far East felt that the only solution was for the mother to come home with the first child and stay till the last child left school. If that were true, great harm would be done to British life here and overseas.

Mr. A. G. Pite, headmaster-designate of Cheltenham, said that when a boy was being left, a competent relative was needed. It was a mistake to commit any child completely to the care of a school-master. He needed a place where the contrast with school life was as great as possible. Just as the school ought to be the finest introduction to institutions, social life, and citizenship, so the other half of the boy's make-up—relations with individuals, freedom, and spontaneity which gave a just balance to discipline, forbearance, and drudgery—should be provided in the holidays. It was also important for any boy to have female company after a term among males, and particularly the company of small girls and even babies.

Mr. Morris (Hong Kong) said parents of limited means who returned to England, as he had, after 20 years' absence, had a feeling of helplessness with regard to schools for their children, and a representative organization would be very valuable.

FRANCE'S AIR MIGHT

Paris, July 20.
M. Pierre Cot, the French Air Minister, said that during the last year modern airplanes in the French defence service had increased by eighty per cent. This meant, he added, that the effectiveness of the French Air Force of carrying out bombing operations had increased by 800 per cent. The aircraft output had doubled during the year, and in 1938 France would be producing 60 per cent more military planes than in 1935.

DEBATE ON PALESTINE COMMISSION REPORT

Lord Snell Criticises Recommendations

London, July 20. The important Commons debate to-morrow on the motion approving the Government's adoption of the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Palestine was preceded to-day by a Lord's debate arising from questions addressed by Opposition leader, Lord Snell.

After paying a tribute to the Commission and its report which he said would always occupy an honoured place among the great State papers of our time, Lord Snell proceeded to criticise the recommendations. "We still believed the Mandate to be workable but for the errors of commission and omission—chiefly omission—of all parties—mandatory Jews and Arabs. He considered the proposals of partition undesirable and regarded what he said was in effect that the return of the Mandate to the League as a national humiliation.

PARTITION OPPOSED

Lord Peel, Chairman of the Royal Commission followed. He observed that members of the Commission had all started on their task opposed to the idea of partition and had come reluctantly to adopt it. He thought it had been a great achievement of the Palestine Government have legislated and administered for two peoples so utterly different and he contended that if the experiment had failed they might fairly conclude that the failure lay not in the efforts of the Mandatory, but in the intractable character and material with which it had to deal.

ARMED FORCES USELESS

The Marquess of Dufferin and Parliamentary Secretary to the Colonial Office, replying for the Government said it was not weakness but strength to end the situation which had become intolerable for Mandatory power and a menace to those whose interests the Mandatory had to protect. The mere application of armed force could never provide a solution of the problem and would only widen the gulf which separated the Arabs and the Jews.

Having decided to accept the report, the Government would tolerate no action from either side in Palestine which would inflame once again the fires of controversy. Representations from organisations of Arabs and Jews had been received and would be considered but the Government were not prepared, as at present advised, to entertain any large or substantial variation in the scheme of Partition unless the Jews and Arabs, in a joint agreement, put forward alternative proposals which commended themselves to the Government. By bringing the matter before the League's Permanent Mandates Commission this month, Government had hoped to obviate any delay in the subsequent steps to be taken.

ENTRY INTO LEAGUE

Speaking of the proposed independent Arab and Jewish states, Lord Dufferin said that the Government would undertake to support any request they might make for admission into the League of Nations. There would be military conventions regarding the Naval, military and air force for the security of ports, roads and railways and protection of pipe lines and other matters as well as effective security of Palestine as a whole.—British Wireless.

NON-INTERVENTION PROPOSALS

London, July 20. The Chairman's Sub-Committee of the International Non-Intervention Committee held two long meetings to-day.

At the morning session it is understood the Committee reached an agreement in principle on an item in the British proposals providing for the establishment of international observation officers in Spanish ports and further agreed at once to refer certain technical aspects of this problem to their technical Sub-Committee. It was proposed, after an adjournment, to proceed to the next item in the British proposals, namely the question of withdrawal of volunteers but it is understood that immediately on resumption the committee reached an impasse on the question of procedure.

After every effort had been made by the chairman, Lord Plymouth, to overcome the difficulties and expedite the Committee's work, it was found necessary to suspend further consideration of the British plan pending consultation by representatives on the Committee with their respective governments.

The official communiqué which was expected to be a document of considerable length was not available up to a late hour this evening.—British Wireless.

FRESH DEADLOCK

London, July 20. The Non-Intervention Committee appears to face a fresh deadlock, with the Italians requesting that withdrawal of volunteers shall not be discussed until ten strikers were killed on May 31, until belligerent rights are granted Spain.

Agreement in principle on the proposal to establish international officers at Spanish ports to protect Spain against intervention by foreigners in the civil war, was reached at this morning's meeting of the Non-Intervention Committee's sub-committee under the chairmanship of Lord Plymouth.

The sub-committee met again in the afternoon and adjourned at 4.45 p.m. It is understood the Italian representative, Count Dino Grandi, the Ambassador, requested that the question of the withdrawal of foreign volunteers should not be discussed until belligerent rights were granted the Spanish factions.

As no agreement could be reached on this question of procedure

NO DECISION YET

London, July 20. So far, the Non-Intervention Committee which met to-day have not been able to reach any definite decision. At the outset, Lord Plymouth, as chairman, endeavoured to raise the question of withdrawal of volunteers from Spain but Count Grandi, Italy's representative, stated that the question of land control had to be decided before other questions could be taken up.—Transocean News Service.

NATIONALIST SUCCESSES

Salamanca, July 20. The offensive launched by the Spanish nationalist forces near Brunete and Quilorne met with further successes during the course of to-day's operations, according to reports which have just come to hand.

The stubborn resistance of the red militia which had marked the initial phases of the fighting has considerably weakened so that the Nationalists were able to improve their positions, it is claimed.—Transocean News Service.

BIG OFFENSIVES

London, July 20. The Insurgents' big offensive west of Madrid, culminating in the biggest battle of the civil war on July 18 when about 40,000 men were engaged, has now ceased, according to a message from Madrid.

It is reported that all the efforts of the Insurgents to retake the towns captured by the Government, a fortnight ago in a sudden drive westward, proved unavailing.

It is estimated the Insurgents lost 2,000 killed alone. On the other hand, reports from Salamanca state that violent fighting has been proceeding in the triangle west of Madrid for the last two days and that the prolonged opposition offered by the International Brigade was finally broken, and the defenders driven from their positions by Moorish troops after hand-to-hand fighting.

The Insurgents claim to have advanced over four miles and to have inflicted at least 8,000 casualties on the Government forces.—Reuter.

the meeting adjourned without fixing a date for resumption.—Reuter.

British Tribute To Marconi

London, July 20.

The Postmaster General has decided, as a tribute to Marchese Marconi who died in Rome to-day, that all Post Office, wireless telegraph, and wireless telephone stations in the British Isles will observe a 2-minutes silence to-morrow at the hour of the funeral.

Major Tryon has sent the following telegram of condolence to the Italian Minister of Communications:—

"The British Post Office deeply deplores the death of Marchese Marconi to whose discoveries and researches in the field of wireless communications the whole world is greatly indebted. The British Post Office is proud to have been associated with Marchese Marconi, both in his early experiments in this country 40 years ago and since then in the world wide development of wireless communications, in which his inventive genius played so important a part."—British Wireless.

ROYAL NAVY

RETURN OF THE BERWICK
The cruiser Berwick, Captain E. R. Bent, D.S.O., arrived at Plymouth on July 8, from the China Station. She left on July 12, for the Nore, arriving at Sheerness on July 13 and Chatham on July 14. The Berwick is to undergo large repairs at Chatham, for which a first instalment of £195,100 is included in the Navy Estimates. She is the last of the five cruisers of the Kent class to be refitted in this way. The Cumberland and Suffolk have returned to China after overhaul, and the Kent and Cornwall are now in hand. The alterations in the ships already completed have included the fitting of extra armour protection, the increase of the 4in. anti-aircraft guns from four to six, and provision for three amphibious aircraft instead of the former single seaplane.

PROMOTION OF SUB-LIEUTENANTS

By a recent decision the course of theoretical instruction at Greenwich for acting sub-lieutenants is to be shortened, and finally suspended, in order to make these officers available earlier for duty at sea. This action has been made necessary by the expansion of the Fleet now in progress, which calls for an early increase in the number of junior watchkeeping officers. The abolition of one of the six courses of instruction taken by acting sub-lieutenants, before their confirmation in the rank, necessitates a revision of the rules determining the seniority at which they are promoted to lieutenant, which depends upon the class of certificate obtained in the various examinations. The revised rules are now published in Fleet Orders. Sub-lieutenants who obtain first-class certificates in all their examinations are to be promoted after 18 months' service as sub-lieutenant, including acting time; and the period to be served varies, according to examination results, up to a maximum of two years and four months. The relative seniority of officers is not affected by the fact that some of them will do fewer courses than their immediate seniors.

NON-INTERVENTION SUB-COMMITTEE MEETING

London, July 21.
Despite lively interchanges at the meeting of the Non-Intervention sub-committee—an amicable tone was not anticipated—the adjourning will exceed forty-eight hours. Meanwhile the representatives will consult their Governments with a view to bridging the differences.

It is learned that Lord Plymouth (Chairman) suggested that points in the British proposals requiring the consent of both parties in Spain be taken first. Count Grandi opined that an agreement should be reached on all the proposals before submitting the scheme to the parties in Spain.
The Portuguese Ambassador,
Woerman, and Germany supported Count Grandi while M. Corbin, the Belgian Ambassador and the Czechoslovak Minister supported Lord Plymouth. The latter then proposed that supervision of land frontiers be discussed provided they agreed thereafter to discuss the withdrawal of volunteers.
M. Corbin agreed provided discussion on the withdrawal of volunteers followed immediately but Count Grandi stated the Italian Government were unable to agree to any other order than that set forth in the outline of proposals.

MILLION TO ONE CHANCE

Sight Restored By Flying Splinter

Five years ago 35-year-old Edward O'Neill, of Glamorgan, was told by an eye specialist that only a "miracle" could restore the sight of his left eye.

Recently the miracle happened.
Mr. O'Neill who is a member of a well-known Welsh Rugby family, lost the sight of his eye when struck by some red-hot cement in the London factory where he was working. He had operation after operation at the hands of London's most skillful surgeons, but they failed to restore his sight.

"At last," said Mr. O'Neill "one surgeon told me my eye would have to be taken out. I was willing to go through with the operation, when he changed his mind and said, 'There is a million to one chance that you may get your sight back in 20 years,' but a miracle will have to happen. We can not do anything for you."

THE "MIRACLE" HAPPENS

"My job had been lost as well as the sight of my left eye. What was I to do? I had a wife and family to support. I was compensated, but that did not find me a job.

"We move to Wales, but there was still no work to be found.
Then this miracle happened.
"I was chopping wood in the back garden when a splinter struck my left eyeball. It broke the film which had formed, and sight came back to my eye.

"I rushed out to the front of the house and placing one hand over my good eye, looked towards the mountain. I could see it quite plainly. It was the happiest moment of my life.

"Now all I want is work. I must do something for my wife and five children."

"NO LOOKING BACK"

May those words of Chiang Kai-shek reverberate throughout the length and breadth of China, and may they be an inspiration to its industrious and peace-loving millions in the gravest crisis which has ever beset the Republic.

"If Japan forces China into war, then there shall be no looking back!"

"Those were the words uttered under great stress and almost unendurable provocation by one whose personal self-sacrifice and superlative courage in the face of tremendous national trials and tribulations has achieved a unique leadership which is rightly regarded as sacred in its transcendent trustworthiness by China's millions. This leader is no dictator but the colleague of the people from whom he has gained his inspirational greatness.

Chiang Kai-shek is trusted.
He has spoken on behalf of a united China and not merely on behalf of a section of China.
Not until every possible avenue of reasonable negotiation had been conscientiously explored did the Generalissimo utter those words charged with seriousness and dynamic significance, and Japan's answer was a bombardment followed by a display of arms calculated to cower and intimidate China's unarmed population. If the idea at the back of that brazen display of a pseudo-streamlined nation's characteristic impertinence was to panic and stampede the outposts of China, then it has failed as completely as did Japan's excursion into the abyssal realm of verbal bombast.
China has stood calm and unshaken under both assaults, and that is symptomatic of the new China—the China which determined to gird its loins and prepare for eventualities after the 1931 rapacity perpetrated by Japan in thieving Manchuria.
That act of brigandage taught China the greatest lesson in the history of the Republic, namely the urgent necessity for complete loyalty to achieve unity and thus save the nation from disintegration. That lesson has been learned in a "very hard school."

The "university of hard knocks" is a sheltered preserve compared with this school of sheer, unadorned suffering. China has become tired with a mighty enthusiasm for the defence of her great national heritage, and having striven long and honourably, but vainly, to stimulate a responsive "sweet reasonableness" in the heart and mind of her metallic neighbour, Japan, and having experienced the mortification of seeing "her efforts" at civilized negotiating in the worthly cause of peace rejected with sneers and sarcasms, she has been forced at last to take her stand and have a show-down.
That means war, and every drop of blood which may be shed in this now seemingly inevitable conflict will weigh heavily in the scales of justice against the aggressor—Japan.

What of the world at large?
Perhaps if Japan had avoided attracting attention after her misguided escapade in Manchuria, the keen edge of the world's resentment might have gradually worn off. Instead, however, Japan has since become increasingly arrogant and offensive. Assaults upon inoffensive and unsuspecting Chinese and foreigners by the Japanese soldiers in North China have become so frequent as almost to pass unnoticed but not entirely recorded. And so one might continue the catalogue of major and minor crimes which that "chosen" nation has premeditatedly perpetrated. The fact is, Japan has grated on the nerves of the world.

On the other hand, China's relations with the great powers have never been more friendly.
In China's defence of her national heritage she will have the moral support of an appreciative world against an imperialistic aggressor nation which has repeatedly violated the sanctity of territories and peoples.

DEVALUATION OF PESOS

Categorically Denied

Rumours concerning the possible devaluation of the peso which is at present linked with the United States dollar are categorically denied by the Secretary of Finance in a letter circulated to all foreign and native banks in Manila from Presidential Headquarters, Malacana Palace.

Simultaneously he has denied the rumours which arose through airing of personal views by a number of Assembly men who apparently thought the peso was too dear.

Mr. Gil Montilla, Speaker of the Assembly, is of the opinion that independent currency is out of the question.

BRITISH SHIPS FROM GERMAN YARDS

Questions In House Of Commons

In the House of Commons, recently, Mr. W. T. Kelly (Rochdale, Lab.) asked the President of the Board of Trade if he would state the number of ships ordered from Germany since March, 1935, by British firms, and if any vessels for British firms were known to be under construction in German shipyards at the present time?

Mr. Oliver Stanley.—There are no official statistics of shipbuilding orders executed abroad for British owners, but according to the returns of the Registrar-General of Shipping and Seamen, the number of steam and motorships (including vessels and whalers) of 100 tons gross and over of recent German construction which have been registered in the United Kingdom since March, 1935, is 44, totalling 28,053 gross tons.

I have no official information regarding vessels now under construction in German yards, but according to information in the Press, it would appear that eight vessels of 53,900 tons gross are at present building in Germany for United Kingdom firms.

Mr. Kelly.—Is there any information in his department as to the firms who are ordering these vessels from Germany?

Mr. Stanley.—I could not give the House the exact names of the firms, but the House will realise that circumstances differ with different firms. As far as I can gather the amount now building in Germany is only something like 50 per cent. of that building a year ago.

Mr. J. J. Lawson (Durham, Conservative, Lab.).—Why should they be built in Germany when there are men idle in every great shipbuilding yard in this country?

Mr. Stanley.—The House would wish as I do that all these ships were being built over here, and I will do my best to persuade the owners to build them here, but circumstances do arise where the owner is under no obligation to do so.

Dr. E. Dalton (Bishop Auckland, Lab.).—Are any of these shipowners receiving subsidies from the British Government?

No answer was given.

JAPAN REVIEW

The Disputed Islands

The Japanese papers mention fresh arguments to prove Manchoukuoan sovereignty over the two islands of Kanchatzu and Chinamuh, an issue which is left for settlement by future diplomatic negotiation. In the maps made by the Russian Government in 1908 and in 1918, the shipping routes are marked on the North side of both islands, and not on the South side.

Another fact mentioned is that when in 1922 White Russians, driven by the Reds from Russian territory, took up their position at Chinamuh and attempted to attack the Reds across the river, the Soviet authorities addressed an official Note to the Chinese chief of the Heiho district, protesting against his connivance at the presence on Chinese territory of a group of plotters against Soviet Russia and asking him to clear the island of these White Russians without delay.
In compliance, the Chinese authorities took steps to disband the group of White Russians.

It is also on record that, taking advantage of the weakness of the Chinese authorities, Soviet Russia arbitrarily occupied the island some time afterwards, this leading to a dispute between the two countries.

Fishery Problem

Some time ago, the Department of Agriculture and Forestry decided to dispatch Mr. Sato, an official of the Fisheries Bureau, to Moscow to replace Mr. Saito, who is now there to attend to matters relative to the revision of the Soviet-Japanese Fishery Treaty, and applied to the Soviet authorities on April 23 for the endorsement of his passport. So far, however, the Soviet authorities have not granted him his visa. This, coupled with the fact that, due to the worsening of Soviet-Japanese relations of late, the prospects of the revision of the Fishery Treaty have been rendered gloomier, has led the Department of Agriculture and Forestry to give up its former plan to send Mr. Sato. In consequence, Mr. Saito will be ordered to continue in service in Moscow.

Gold-Diggers Of 1937

Mr. Shizaburo Ishihara, managing director of the Ishihara Sangyo Kaisha, who has been inspecting conditions of the mining industry in the Philippines for some time, has just returned home.

In a press interview, Mr. Ishihara said that the outlook of the Philippine mining industry is very hopeful. There are rich gold resources in the islands, said to be among the richest in the world, second only to the rich deposits in the Transvaal, Africa. Iron, copper, chromium and manganese are also available in large quantities.
It is best for Japanese investors to start mining there as one means of economic co-operation with the Philippines, he declared.

Mr. Ishihara added that in addition to American investments there has been a sharp increase in British investments of late, the total capitalization being estimated at ¥150,000,000 at the present rate of exchange. Gold production in the Philippines last year was ¥80,000,- 000, and gold mining companies have been paying dividends as high as 40 per cent.

Viscount Given Doctorate

The Education Department has conferred the degree of doctor of science on Viscount Akamaro Tanaka, an aged limnologist, for his thesis entitled, "A Study of Lakes in the Northern Japan Alps" submitted to Kyoto Imperial University some time ago.

Viscount Tanaka is an amateur limnologist. His interest in this particular science dates back to his childhood days when he visited the Fuji Goko the wellknown five lakes at the foot of Mount Fuji.
He spent some time studying in Europe. He is 88 years old.

Germany And Japanese Art

The Foreign Office and the Education Office are reported to have been approached by the German Ambassador in Tokyo regarding a projected exhibition in Germany of Japanese classical art-objects.

The Ambassador called on Mr. Yasui, Education Minister, a few days ago and sought an assurance of his good offices should he be formally approached by Germany. Meanwhile, it is stated that the German Ambassador has invited Mr. Otto Cumer, an authority on Japanese art and head of the museums in Prussia, to visit Japan. He is expected to arrive some time in September, and it is believed he then open preliminary negotiations regarding the proposed exhibition.

The Japanese Government authorities are stated to be confronted with a dilemma in this connection for, while there is a law prohibiting the export of national treasures it is recalled that some time ago Reichsuehrer Hitler returned a picture of the Emperor Saga (a Japanese national treasure found in Germany) to Japan purely out of courtesy.

NO UNITY

London, July 20. Lord Snell, speaking for Labour when initiating the discussion of the Palestine Report in the House of Lords to-day, said the members of the Royal Commission who had investigated the situation and recommended partitioning, seemed to have arrived at the conclusion that the country would never be united until it was divided. In his judgment the better and surer way lay in obtaining understanding and co-operation between the two races.

He complained that the Government had endorsed the report before Parliament had had an opportunity to pronounce upon it. On behalf of the Labour Party he condemned the partitioning as inequitable and hazardous.

Lord Peel, chairman of the Palestine Commission, who was received with loud cheers, said he believed that the deep-rooted facts of the situation were that it would not be possible to carry on government under a mandate without the greatest and most searching alterations in the mandate itself.

The race which had been introduced into Palestine was determined not to remain in the minority. Inevitably, therefore, the Arab believed that either himself or his descendants would go down before the forces of the Jews, with which they would be unable to cope.

DEEP DISCREPANCY

The least that could be said about the Palestine Government was that it might have governed much better, Lord Peel went on. But how could a Government flourish with the deep Arab and Jewish discrepancy? he asked.

"It was not until after the most thorough and tremendous sifting and questioning that we moved slowly and reluctantly to the assumption that no mere change in the mandate was enough," Lord Peel concluded.

Lord Dufferin, Under-Secretary of State for Colonies, drew the attention of the Lords to the fact that the Report was unanimous on the four major issues of the investigation. It had dispelled the belief that the existing mandate could be made to work. The Government's view was that the Commission's scheme appeared equitable and well conceived in its main outline, and both just and practicable. The Government believed its inherent difficulties would be overcome.

VARIOUS MODIFICATIONS

Representations regarding the proposed boundaries of the partitions of Palestine, for Jews and Arabs and neutral zone, would be received with every consideration, Lord Dufferin said.

While various modifications of detail might be found necessary, the Government was not disposed to entertain very substantial variations, he pointed out.

He added that a military convention would be attached to the treaties entered into with the Jewish and Arab states. This convention would deal with the maintenance of military, naval and air forces, the use of ports, roads and railroads, and the security of pipelines to the oil-fields, and other matters affecting the defence and security of Palestine, as a whole.—Reuter.

MEDITERRANEAN QUIET

Just a few hours' after the Empress of Russia arrived the P. & O. Rajputana came through Lyceum, and slipped quietly alongside her usual berth at Kowloon Wharf.

Passengers interviewed on board by our representative reported that the voyage through the Mediterranean was particularly quiet and uneventful. They admitted that there is a war on in Spain, but nothing was seen of it on board the Rajputana, either at Gibraltar or going down to Suez and the Red Sea.

They were, however, much interested to notice the famous German cruiser Deutschland lying off the port of Tangier.

A certain amount has appeared in the English papers lately on the subject of fortifications at the border of the Red Sea, but nothing of the sort was noticed by passengers on board the Rajputana.

BUDGE GIVEN FRIGHT

Davis Cup Tennis

London, July 20. The Inter-Zone Final of the Davis Cup was concluded to-day when, in a match lasting two hours 25 minutes, Budge of United States beat G. von Cramm of Germany, 6-8, 5-7, 6-4, 8-3, 8-6.

Budge was given a real fright, and von Cramm, who was warmly encouraged by the crowd, played inspired tennis in the first two sets. He advanced to the net on backhand drives, and volleyed splendidly, though Budge looked the better player.

Nevertheless Budge's forehead was rather weak, and he missed with several of his first services. In the first set Budge led 5-4, and had five set points, but von Cramm fought doggedly and robbed him of the advantage, finally winning the set in the fourteenth game.

Budge, after losing the second set at 7-5, went to a two-love lead in the third set, but von Cramm again recovered and levelled at two-all, winning a love game against service. Budge did precisely the same thing in the next game, and went to his points at 6-4.

Budge was quickly four-love in the fourth set and won it with the loss of three games, but von Cramm came back finely in the final and deciding set. He led 3-1 and then, after being love-30 on service, also won that game for 4-1.

Budge proceeded to snatch a love game on service and then broke through von Cramm's service to make the score 3-4. The American levelled the count in the eighth game on service after being 30-40.

After this games went with service and were won to love at the 11th and 12th games. In the vital thirteenth game Budge won against service giving him the lead in this set for the first time.

Then in a tense atmosphere Budge served and actually held five match points before he could obtain the winning shot.

HENKEL WIN

In the match preceding this epic struggle, Henkel rather easily beat Grant. It was mostly a baseline duel. Grant brought off some beautiful half volleys and some amazing recoveries, but the German was the more forceful player, and this, allied with his better serving, told in the end. Grant had one big chance of saving the match when he led 4-3 in the fourth set.—Reuter.

THE "MONSTROUS MOLECULE" OF 17,000,000 ATOMSSecrets Of The CrystalMATTER AND ITS STRUCTURE

Crystals are everywhere; in living substances, like the fibres of hair or wool or horn—as well as in non-living matter writes a Home correspondent. It has lately been hopelessly suggested that in some needle-like crystals 'got out from a vegetable poison a link might be found between the living and the dead.

This secret of a crystal, just mentioned by Sir William Bragg, President of the Royal Society, is likely to remain a secret still, though the crystal itself has been probed by X-rays, by polarized light, and photography, and its monstrous molecule of 17,000,000 atoms has been measured and weighed. But other examples of crystal gazing, as pursued by Sir William Bragg, his son, Professor W. L. Bragg, and an army of investigators all over the world, are of immediate importance to science and industry.

X-RAY EYE

The aim of this army, equipped with the X-ray as a weapon, is to find how the atoms are arranged in a crystal and how they may be changed. The X-ray is the only eye capable of spying out this ultimate structure.

Its inquisitiveness has shown why paints that seem alike behave differently when applied; why chromium-plated articles differ in brightness or durability; how the jewel of a bearing had best be set. The magnetic qualities of silicon steel are accounted for; and in the field of alloys crystal gazing opens up a vista of unanswered questions sufficient to occupy inquirers for the next generation.

Mechanical and electrical engineering are based on the uses of alloys, of which a metallurgical directory sets down over 7,000. Each new alloy with improved qualities is a step forward for the engineer. The properties of metals depend on the shape and size of the crystals, of which all metals are composed, and of their outward arrangement in planes. But there is an inward arrangement of the atoms in the crystal which must be made out if we are to discover what is happening, or will happen in an alloy of one metal with another.

ATOMS ON PARADE

The perfectly formed crystal of a metal or any mineral is an example of Nature's economy of design. Its shape is a sign of something fundamental in its make up, and is, briefly, the arrangement of the atoms within it, which like guardsmen on parade, arrange themselves in regular ranks and files.

The lattice of girders in a modern steel-frame building is an apter illustration. A stripped skyscraper looked at from a distance would resemble the heap of tiny crystal cubes of which rock salt is made. But in the crystal cells a million atoms are spread out over an inch. In a cubic inch are trillions.

The eye could never see them. To see them with any ultra microscope would be like trying to pick up a grain of sand with a steam dredger. But the X-ray eye is more particular, having a wavelength of light one hundred thousandth of any the human eye can use. Its light rebounds from an atom in the crystal, or spreads out in smaller waves from it. By reflection from the atoms spaced out in the crystal cells, the X-rays throw what we may call (rather sketchily) a shadow pattern of their arrangement on a screen.

There is no such thing as a surface reflection, because the rays must pass through millions of crystal layers before their exploratory results show themselves. We might turn the crystal through innumerable angles to get its pattern. In practice, powdering the crystal and sending the exploratory ray through the mass gives the result.

Thus the X-ray which, when first employed, showed shadow pictures of the bones in our bodies, can be made to show the shadow of an atom in its crystal cell with a cloud of electrons about it. Sir William Bragg displayed at the Society of Arts such a shadow picture of a single cell of oxalic acid, and another of the molecule of the new pigment, monastral blue. There could be seen four benzene rings surrounding an inner ring of nitrogen and carbon atoms; and in the centre of all an atom of nickel or copper like a picture in a frame.

Several of these accurate shadow pictures have been laboriously made, but the labour is well spent, for it gives an insight into the structure of matter. It is like molecular engineering, which affords (as to an engineer) a guide to the tenacity, elasticity, and strength of the girders of which a structure is built. The supreme value of knowing this arrangement of the atoms in a crystal is that the arrangement never varies.

The arrangement and measurement are accurate and invariable to the millionth of an inch between the atoms. Thereby is suggested what happens if and when the arrangement is altered by outside influences. We may accordingly learn how and why a metal's crystalline structure alters when it is strained or fatigued; why it hardens, or becomes brittle or tough when a new arrangement of atoms breaks into the scheme, as in an alloy. The most eagerly sought knowledge is what metallic alloys are, and what they may become.

CABLE AND WIRELESS LIMITED

An index number will be issued in time for publication on the 20th of each month, and as the course of these traffic receipts has always afforded a valuable indication of world trading and commercial activity, it is hoped that, in addition to providing an indication of the Company's traffic for its stockholders, it will be found of value to observers of world economic conditions.

INDEX NUMBERS

These index numbers represent the estimated monthly receipts from traffic as related to comparable traffic in the year 1929. It should be noted that since 1929 the operation in various overseas areas has been taken over at different dates by the local associated companies, and the total figures for 1929 taken for purpose of comparison in establishing the index 100 have therefore been adjusted when necessary by the omission of the receipts accruing in the areas affected. The index numbers are, in consequence, all shown upon a comparable basis.

Monthly figures reduced to working day average.

Working day average of comparable receipts, year 1929=100.

UNIVERSITY FOR SINGAPORE

Action Taken

Following a meeting of five political bodies to consider the question of a University for Singapore, at which it was decided to invite the views of Capt. N. M. Hashim, who is champion of the cause, it is understood that Capt. Hashim has written to the Straits Chinese British Association, which convened the meeting, reiterating the views he has so strongly expressed in Council and at a public meeting.

Capt. Hashim's note, it is understood, will be circulated to all the Associations concerned, the others, apart from the S.C.B.A., being the Straits Settlements (Singapore) Association, the Eurasian Association, the Indian Association and the Moslem Association.

A further meeting of these Associations is likely to be called soon. CAPT. HASHIM INTERVIEWED. Though general opinion at the moment seems to be more in favour of the establishment of more trade and vocational schools than a university for the present, Capt. Hashim still strongly believes that the establishment of a University will come soon.

He told a "Malaya Tribune" representative in an interview that though nothing definite had been said officially, on the one or the other side of the question, his talks with the Colonial Secretary and a study of the official replies at the Federal Council meeting on February 3 last and the Legislative Council meetings of February 15 and June 14 gave him the impression that the University was coming, and at a not too distant future.

Any move towards the establishment of more technical and trade schools would only constitute part of the consideration given by Government towards the establishment of the University.

JAPAN'S GOLD STOCKS

To Be Revalued

London, July 20.

News of the Japanese Government's decision to revalue the Bank of Japan's gold stocks came too late to affect the London market to-day, but bankers with Far Eastern connections are at present engaged in discussing the implications of the step.

Coming as a complete surprise and at such a moment, some well-informed quarters naturally connected with the Tokyo Government's action with the present Sino-Japanese situation. But the view is now growing that some defence fund for the yen may be necessary in order to maintain it against the pressure which results from nervousness about the North China position.

Dr. H. H. Kung, the Chinese Finance Minister who has been negotiating credits for China in the United States, has just arrived here, but he declined to make any statement on the North China situation when interviewed to-day, pending more detailed information from Nanking.

However, he expressed the view that the issue now appeared to be between the Tokyo Government and the Kwantung Army extremists.

Dr. Kung is apparently in good health and has abandoned his proposed visit to Nanking for treatment. He says himself if he is feeling no better he is feeling no worse. The length of his stay in London depends upon the developments in the Far East, he added.

TWO NEW BILLS

Ozaka, July 21.
It is understood that the Finance Ministry has decided to introduce two bills at a special session of Parliament, commencing July 24, one pertaining to the revaluation of gold reserves in the Bank of Japan, the other creating an Exchange Adjustment Fund Account.

The rate of revaluation has not yet been disclosed, but it will probably be fixed at 10 per cent. under the world gold market prices.

The gold reserve, amounting to 500,000,000 yen, will be revalued at about 1,300,000,000 yen, thus enabling the Government to make a profit of 800,000,000, of which 500,000,000 yen will be used as an Exchange Adjustment Fund.

It is understood this action will not mean legal devaluation of the yen as the Government does not intend to decrease the gold content of the coin.

DIVORCE SUIT IN KOBE

First Hearing

The first hearing of a local divorce suit, Carroll versus Carroll, was heard in the Kobe Civil District Court recently. Mrs. R. J. Carroll is petitioning for divorce, claiming ¥5,000.

Mr. Matsuo, representing the defendant, opposed the application. He asserted that plaintiff neglected the defendant during the latter's illness, and in denying desertion alleged that Mrs. Carroll went to dance-halls nearly every night, neglecting her husband. She also resented visits by the defendant's mother and eldest son by a former marriage, which caused the defendant finally to live with his mother. Last New Year's eve, alleged Mr. Matsuo, plaintiff walked out of the house when her husband wanted to take her out.

The Court is to hear plaintiff's counsel on September 13 when it will decide if the suit can be admitted, says the "Kobe Shimbun".

STEEL RIOTS SEQUEL

Chicago, July 20.

A coroner's jury investigating the steel mill riots here in which ten strikers were killed on May 31, to-day returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" in each case.

The jury found that each of the men killed met his death from bullet wounds inflicted by some unknown police officer, and also that the victims of the riot had died while marching with a large, well-armed body of persons attempting to force their way through police lines and into the Republic Steel Corporation plant.

POLISH RIVAL TO J. OWENS

Native Of Canary Island

Poland, land of women athletic champions, has produced a runner who is considered a likely rival to Jesse Owens, America's coloured triple Olympic champion.

This young hope, also a man of colour, is named De Long and comes from the Canary Islands.

Although he had never previously participated in a sports meeting, would have been considered great in itself, but the fact that De Long actually achieved this feat in heavy Army boots was remarkable.

Like Owens, De Long's prowess is not confined to running. Still wearing his Army boots, he did a long jump of six metres (about 19 ft).

De Long is now being put into special training, and he is expected to develop considerable with adequate coaching. As a Polish citizen, De Long is undergoing military training at Wind. His father is a negro and his mother a white woman of Polish nationality.

VAST AMERICAN AQUEDUCT

Tunnels in $60,000,000 Aqueduct system under construction in America to supply water to 13 cities in Southern California. A tunnel through hard rock formation, seen just after excavation. There will be 108 miles of this form of channel and a total of 29 miles of the concrete siphon structures. The aqueduct, which will be completed in 1939, will carry 1,000,000,000 gallons of water daily over 250 miles of mountain country and desert.

THE EMPRESS ARRIVES

Soon after sunrise yesterday the Empress of Russia entered the harbour and berthed at Kowloon. On board were quite a number of notable people, among them Mr. Carson Taylor the publisher of the "Manila Daily Bulletin" who is on his way to the U.S.A. on a business trip. Mr. C. Barr, the General Agent of Canadian National Railways who has been for a holiday in Manila (rumour says that perhaps he combined business with pleasure) and Dr. and Mrs. Valerio are also on board. Dr. Valerio is going to Tokyo for the Education Conference.

Mr. C. H. Forster, who is manager of the American Red Cross in the Philippines is going first to Nagasaki, after which he also will attend the Educational Conference. Lieut. F. V. Cardenas from Manila is conducting a party of P. I. Army Officers proceeding to the U.S.A. for special studies. Mr. D. L. Ferguson is conducting a large party on a world tour.

Mrs. E. Staight (wife of Mr. E. Staight of the Syndicate Investment Co., of Manila) is with her family and off to America for a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Reich of New York are on their way back after doing the round trip.

One of the first people to go ashore was Dr. Smalley who went down to Manila in response to an emergency call. Dr. Sanders (Medical Officer of the Empress of Russia) was taken ill and had to go to hospital, and Dr. Smalley very kindly stepped into the breach at almost a moment's notice, taking over his duties on the trip to Manila and back.

He reports an excellent bill of health throughout the short voyage and glorious weather, and said that he had much enjoyed a very pleasant twenty-four hours with friends in Manila.

Mrs. Smalley and his daughter Joan met the ship on arrival, and found Dr. Smalley very well and cheery after his brief holiday at sea.

Others who are taking a short holiday on the Empress of Russia include Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney of Manila, and Mr. M. Paraborte, who was taking a large party of his compatriots on a tour of the island yesterday, having secured a small fleet of motor-cars for the purpose.

THE WEATHER

A report issued by the Royal Observatory states that 0.03 inch of rain was recorded during the 24 hours ended at 10 a.m. yesterday, bringing the year's total since January 1, to 43.01 inches against an average of 47.80 inches.

Tuesday's maximum temperature was 86 degs. with a night minimum of 79. Yesterday at 10 a.m. the temperature was 88 degs. The maximum temperature yesterday was 88 degs. this reading being being taken at noon.
